34 The FCSM Promotion and Tenure Committee Mission Statement

35 The FCSM PTRM Committee consists of one representative from each department elected by the FCSM at

36 large. The FCSM Dean is an ex officio non-voting member of the Committee. The primary obligation of the

37 Committee is to review the submitted files to ensure fairness and equity to faculty members who are being evaluated

38 for promotion and tenure. The FCSM PTRM Committee is advisory to the FCSM Dean on other performance

39 evaluations.

40 In accordance with the Strategic Plan of the University, the FCSM PTRM Committee aims to maintain a highly

41 qualified faculty that balances the tripartite responsibilities of teaching and advising, scholarly activity, and service. In

42 order to implement this objective, the Committee will evaluate the files of the candidates according to Towson

43 University policies for faculty evaluation, which are in accordance with the Boyer Model of Scholarship (see Appendix 44 A). The Committee will then make recommendations to the Provost.

45 As part of its duties, the Committee will fully investigate appeals from departmental recommendations and, if it deems 46 appropriate, will attempt to resolve such disputes before a final decision and vote is taken.

48 I. General Directions

49	A. Composition of the Committee and election of its members
50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57	The FCSM PTRM Committee will consist of one representative from each department elected at large from the college for a period of three years. These three-year terms shall be staggered to ensure some consistency from year to year. Members may serve no more than two consecutive terms. Eligible members include tenured faculty at the rank of associate professor and professor who have been in the FCSM for at least three years. Chairpersons and faculty members who are candidates for promotion are not eligible. The Dean of the College shall serve as an ex officio non-voting member of this Committee. In the event of vacancies on the FCSM PTRM Committee, the FCSM electorate shall choose a replacement before the FCSM PTRM Committee begins its work.
58 59 60 61	<ul> <li>The role of the ex officio member is to clarify procedural details and ensure due process. This member should refrain from expressing personal opinions on the quality of the evaluation portfolios or on the performance of candidates under review unless requested to do so by members of the FCSM PRTM Committee.</li> </ul>
62 63 64	<ul> <li>The election of the members of the FCSM PTRM Committee will be according to the procedures of FCSM as indicated at https://www.towson.edu/fcsm/about/documents/election-procedures.pdf (see Appendix B).</li> </ul>
65	B. Forms Required
66 67 68 69	• To ensure that accurate Annual Reports (AR) are available at the appropriate times, the promotion and tenure chairperson(s) of each department in the FCSM must make sure that these Reports are completed and filed with the department by the deadline established by the University PTRM Committee.
70 71 72 73 74 75	<ul> <li>The FCSM recommendation forms must be signed by the individual and by the chairperson of the departmental rank and /or tenure committee. If the recommended faculty member is the chairperson of the departmental rank and/or tenure committee, then the chairperson of the department must cosign the document.</li> <li>All documents and supporting data are confidential and should be submitted to the office of the Dean of FCSM, where they are kept in a FCSM PTRM file.</li> </ul>
76	C. Schedules
77 78 79 80 81	<ul> <li>The FCSM PTRM Committee shall adhere to the deadlines set by the University PTRM Committee (see Section XII Important Dates).</li> <li>Additional or supplementary documents sent to the FCSM PTRM Committee after November 30th will not be accepted unless specifically requested by the responsible departmental committee or the FCSM PTRM Committee and approved by the FCSM PTRM Committee.</li> </ul>
82	D. Approval Process on Revisions of the FCSM PTRM Document and/or Procedures
83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90	• FCSM PTRM documents pertaining to standards, criteria, and/or expectations of evaluation shall be developed by the PTRM Committee. The FCSM PTRM document must be distributed to all tenured and tenure-track faculty in the FCSM for input at least ten (10) business days prior to the FCSM PTRM Committee vote on the documents. Final approval at the college level shall be by a simple majority vote of the tenured/tenure-track faculty of the FCSM excepting faculty who are on leave from the university (e.g., medical, sabbatical, etc.), the signature of each tenured or tenure-track faculty member of the college will signify that s/he has voted on the FCSM PTRM documents. Balloting will be conducted by the FCSM Elections Committee as described in Appendix B.
91 92 93	<ul> <li>The FCSM document shall be approved by the FCSM Dean. The Dean is responsible for transmitting the document with any proposed changes to the University PTRM Committee by the second Friday in October.</li> </ul>

94II.Policies and Procedures of the FCSM PTRM Committee for Promotion, Tenure, and Five-Year95Comprehensive Review

A. General

97 98	<ul> <li>The FCSM PTRM Committee will review faculty files in the context of its Mission Statement and the document "TOWSON UNIVERSITY POLICY ON APPOINTMENT, RANK AND TENURE OF</li> </ul>
99 100	<ul> <li>FACULTY."</li> <li>All matters considered by the Committee pertaining to individual faculty members shall be held in</li> </ul>
101	strict confidence.
102	Because of the importance of the Committee's deliberations, all voting members must be present at
103	all meetings.
104	During deliberation, any voting Committee member may request reconsideration and a revote on
105	tenure, promotion, or reappointment decisions at any time.
106	• The entire Committee shall review all outgoing correspondence. This correspondence must include
107	written specifics justifying the Committee's decision based on the file of the candidate, including
108	minority viewpoints.
109	<ul> <li>The FCSM PTRM Committee shall review its PTRM document every three (3) years and submit</li> </ul>
110	evidence of such review to the FCSM Dean and the University PTRM Committee.
111	All votes regarding tenure, promotion, reappointment, merit, and/or comprehensive reviews taken
112	by any committee and/or the department shall be by secret ballot, signed with the Towson
113	University ID number, and dated by the voting member, and tallied by the committee chair. The
114	committee chair shall forward a signed, dated report of the results of the vote and the committee's
115	recommendations to the next level of review. The secret ballots shall not be included in the faculty
116 117	evaluation portfolio, but shall be forwarded under separate cover to the Provost, to be preserved with the tenurs and promotion file until three (2) years following the foculty member's termination or
118	with the tenure and promotion file until three (3) years following the faculty member's termination or resignation from the university. No committee member shall abstain from a vote for tenure or
110	promotion unless the Provost authorizes such abstention based on good cause, including an
120	impermissible conflict of interest.
120
121	B. Tenure and Promotion
122	• Each Committee member individually will examine the materials submitted by each department for
123	faculty members recommended for tenure and/or promotion, and will decide whether to support or
124	deny the recommendations.
125	<ul> <li>During meetings of the full Committee, each Committee member will contribute to an open</li> </ul>
126	discussion of each candidate. Following the discussion, the Committee will vote to support or deny
127	the departmental recommendation concerning the candidate. A simple majority (at least 3 out of the 128	possible 5) is required. The voting shall follow the guidelines mentioned in IIA above concerning
129	the secret ballot, signed with the Towson University ID number and dated by the voting member.
130	Votes will be tallied by the committee chair who shall forward a signed, dated report of the results
131	of the vote and the committee's recommendations to the Provost. The secret ballots shall not be
132	included in the faculty evaluation portfolio, but shall be forwarded under separate cover to the
133	Provost, to be preserved with the tenure and promotion file until three (3) years following the faculty
134	member's termination or resignation from the university. No committee member shall abstain from
135	a vote for tenure or promotion unless the Provost authorizes such abstention based on good cause,
136	including an impermissible conflict of interest.
137	<ul> <li>The recommendations of the department, of the FCSM PTRM Committee, and of the Dean of</li> </ul>
138	FCSM, will be forwarded, together with all pertinent files, to the Provost. All the recommendations
139	of the Dean of FCSM will be shared with the FCSM PTRM Committee.
140	III. College-wide Criteria and Standards for Promotion and Tenure
141	A. Statement of Philosophy
142
143	The following are the general criteria and standards for promotion and tenure within the Fisher
144	College of Science and Mathematics. We recognize that each department within the FCSM has a
145	distinctive character and set of expectations and the purpose of this document is not to stifle that
146	individuality. Conversely, we also believe that there should be some commonality of standards that

147 148	apply to all departments within the FCSM that reflects the nature and mission of the College. This outline attempts to reconcile these different views.
149	B. Tenured and Tenure-Track Faculty
150 151	1. Tenure and Promotion to Associate Professor
152	The promotion to Associate Professor carries the awarding of tenure, so we treat these as one and
153	the same.
154
155	Promotion to Associate Professor with tenure is the most important step up the academic ladder for
156	two reasons. First, newly promoted faculty members can remain at Towson throughout their
157	academic lifetime; promotion with tenure should be considered as a commitment to keeping that
158	faculty member as a productive colleague throughout this time. Second, if promotion to Associate
159	Professor with tenure is not granted, that faculty member will likely leave Towson University. For
160	these reasons, it is important that the general criteria and expectations for this promotion be laid out
161	clearly.
162	In general, the FCCM does not feel that visid, swentitative evitaria are ensured to fee a fear through and
163 164	In general, the FCSM does not feel that rigid, quantitative criteria are appropriate for a faculty whose interests range from astrophysics to zoology. This is especially true in the area of scholarship, where
165	use of numbers of publications, grants, or presentations at meetings is highly variable among
166	disciplines. However, we have provided some general guidelines for achievements in Teaching,
167	Scholarship, and Service.
168
169	Teaching — The general expectation of the FCSM is that teaching is our central function and that
170	all faculty should strive to be outstanding teachers. Assessing teaching performance, however, is
171	extremely difficult. Our general philosophy is that no single criterion can be used to adequately judge
172	teaching performance. At a minimum, the following must be used to measure teaching effectiveness.
173	The listed items are not prioritized according to order of importance.
174	<ul> <li>quantitative student evaluation scores as designated by the department. The method for</li> </ul>
175	determination of quantitative scores should be provided by each department to the FCSM
176	PTRM Committee.
177	<ul> <li>all qualitative comments from student evaluation forms</li> </ul>
178	<ul> <li>course syllabi</li> <li>course of all airmoid reports from non-above attacking of too above (Approximately)</li> </ul>
179 180	<ul> <li>copies of all signed reports from peer observations of teaching (Approved departmental peer observation forms can be found in Appendix C)</li> </ul>
180	<ul> <li>evidence of advising (include a narrative summary and self-reflection that describes the</li> </ul>
182	number of advisees, methods of advisement, range of issues discussed, etc.)
183	However, in addition to the above items, other measures are also appropriate. Other items that
184	may be included, where appropriate, are (but not limited to) the following. The list is not prioritized
185	according to order of importance.
186	<ul> <li>examples of novel assessments</li> </ul>
187	<ul> <li>evidence of the development of new courses</li> </ul>
188	evidence of significant modification of course content or delivery
189	<ul> <li>evidence of improvement of personal knowledge of subject content or teaching</li> </ul>
190	methodologies
191	<ul> <li>evidence of contributions and/or delivery of a new curriculum</li> </ul>
192	<ul> <li>professional awards for teaching excellence</li> </ul>
193	<ul> <li>evidence of supervision of student research</li> </ul>
194	<ul> <li>for mathematics and science educators: evidence of supervision and mentoring of pre-</li> </ul>
195	service teachers
196	Scholarship — The FCSM recognizes that faculty practice four kinds of scholarship as defined by
197	the Boyer Model (see Appendix A): the scholarship of discovery, of integration, of application, and
198	of teaching. The general expectation of the FCSM is that all faculty members should be able to
199	demonstrate the presence of an active and ongoing program of scholarship of one or more of these

200 201 202 203	forms. The faculty member needs to demonstrate the ability to initiate and carry out to completion scholarly work at Towson University in his/her specialty as evidenced by the following. The listed items are not prioritized according to order of importance. When scholarly products involve student co-authors this should be duly noted.
204 205 206 207 208 209	<ul> <li>publications in peer reviewed scholarly journals</li> <li>when appropriate to a discipline, publications in peer reviewed conference proceedings</li> <li>publication of a professionally appropriate peer reviewed book, textbook, manual or extensive monograph</li> <li>submission of university-approved patent applications to the U.S. Patent Office or the awarding of such patents</li> </ul>
210 211 212 213	In addition to a scholarly publication record, several other possible items are illustrated below. Note that these are examples of supporting evidence that may be used, and others may be employed at the discretion of the department. The listed criteria are not prioritized according to order of importance.
214 215 216 217 218 219 220 221 222	<ul> <li>competitive internal and external grants proposals, applied for and/or received</li> <li>progress reports or final reports on the implementation of externally funded projects</li> <li>presenting papers at professional meetings</li> <li>documented research in progress</li> <li>conducting workshops (This item might be expected to count more heavily for mathematics and science education faculty)</li> <li>invited lectures</li> <li>serving as a panelist or discussant at professional meetings</li> <li>professional awards based on scholarly achievement</li> </ul>
223	The quality of the scholarly products may be considered in the candidate's evaluation.
224 225 226 227 228 229	Service — The general expectation of the FCSM is that all faculty members should be actively engaged in service, to the department, the College, the University community, and to the faculty member's discipline. The exact level of service is primarily a departmental function and no specific level of service is mandated here. Faculty are expected to make useful, documented contributions to their department, their College, the University, and to their discipline. Some examples of service include:
230 231 232	<ul> <li>Department, FCSM and/or University committees or taskforces</li> <li>Professional service (e.g., manuscript or proposal review, serving as an officer in a professional association, chairing (and/or organizing) sessions at professional meetings)</li> </ul>
234	2. Promotion to Professor
235 236 237 238 239 240	Promotion to Professor is the ultimate step in academic recognition. This promotion should recognize not only length of service, but also a sustained commitment to excellence or distinction in teaching, scholarship, and service. In addition to high levels of teaching effectiveness (using criteria noted above), and a leadership role in the area of service, faculty should demonstrate a sustained program of recognized scholarship, as indicated by, for example, a substantial refereed publication record, successful textbook authorship, success in attracting external grants, and
241 242 243 244	presentations at national and international meetings. We emphasize that while different disciplines will necessarily have different levels of grant success and publication, the key element is a sustained commitment to peer-reviewed scholarly productivity.
244 245	promotion to Professor, as these activities were not counted towards tenure.
246 247 248	Letters of evaluation from external reviewers will be solicited from outside the University pursuant to the Guidelines approved by the Faculty Senate (see Appendix E). In general, external evaluators should not be current or former mentors, students or collaborators within the past five

249 250 251 252 253 254 255 256	years, nor should they pose other significant potential conflicts of interest. Candidates may also submit names of those persons that they prefer NOT be asked to write an evaluation. The external evaluation will address the candidate's scholarship as it relates to the candidate's promotion to Professor. The letters will remain confidential and will not be made available to the faculty member. The content of these external letters may be quoted in the committee, department chair, and Dean letters, as long as the confidentiality of the evaluators is maintained. These letters will not be included in the faculty evaluation portfolio, but will be forwarded under separate cover to each subsequent level of review, along with an optional departmental review of the external letters.
257 258 259 260	Contents of the evaluation portfolio to be sent to external reviewers: Reviewers will be provided with a description of Towson University and the Fisher College, to provide context for the review. The materials to be sent to external reviewers who have agreed to provide a review will be in electronic format only. They should be limited to:
261 262 263 264 265 266 267	<ul> <li>a) A curriculum vitæ</li> <li>b) The applicant's supporting statement focusing on the area of scholarship and reflecting on accomplishments during the evaluation period. This statement should be written for experts in the field, rather than for a general audience.</li> <li>c) A maximum of three (3) publications or other scholarly products, either as readable files or internet links thereto. The external evaluators will be able to request additional items on the candidate's curriculum vitæ by contacting the Department Chairperson.</li> </ul>
268	C. Clinical Faculty
269 270 271	Clinical Faculty must demonstrate a record of effective teaching using evidence from the items listed in section B.1 above. Clinical faculty are also expected to maintain all licenses and certifications relevant for their professional practice.
272	1. Promotion to Clinical Associate Professor
273 274 275	The criteria for promotion to Clinical Associate Professor are similar to those listed above for Tenure-track faculty, but with greater emphasis on the teaching record. In addition to the forms of supporting evidence of scholarly activity listed in B.1. above, the following may also be considered:
276 277 278	<ul> <li>professional practice guidelines, textbooks, and other educational materials,</li> <li>consultation to government agencies, industry, or professional groups</li> <li>completion of industry and academic training</li> </ul>
279	2. Promotion to Clinical Professor
280 281 282 283 284 285 286 287	Promotion to Clinical Professor is the ultimate step in academic recognition. This promotion should recognize not only length of service, but also a sustained commitment to excellence or distinction in teaching, scholarship, and service. In addition to high levels of teaching effectiveness (using criteria noted above), and a leadership role in the area of service, faculty should demonstrate a consistent program of scholarship of application, discovery, integration and/or teaching, as indicated by, for example, a record of refereed publications, successful textbook authorship, success in attracting external grants, innovations in program or curriculum development, or presentations at national and international meetings.
288	External letters of support may be submitted for the evaluation, but they are not required.

- 307 Portfolio
- 308 Each FCSM faculty member being evaluated for promotion and/or tenure is expected to prepare a 309 evaluation portfolio that addresses the professorial expectations of faculty in the University, the FCSM and the candidate's department. The materials in Sections A through D of this document should be organized in 310 electronic folders in the indicated sequence, separated and indexed with file names indicative of the tabs 311 312 listed below. This document addresses the organization of the evaluation portfolio only and in no way is to 313 be interpreted as setting or clarifying existing or future promotion and tenure policies for the FCSM. All of the below material will appear within the folder labeled "Supplementary Materials" on the PTRM SharePoint site 314 that will be shared by the Provost's Office. 315

316 Section A: Summary and Recommendations

Cover Page. The evaluation portfolio begins with a cover sheet that includes the candidate's name, highest degree, present rank, department, date of appointment at Towson University and rank awarded, number of years of credit for prior service, dates for leaves of absence (with the purposes of the leaves indicated), and dates and places of previous promotions. This cover sheet should state the candidate's area of specialization within the discipline. The following format must be used (lines not applicable should be omitted):

323	Name
324	Highest Degree

353 Section B: Teaching

354The general expectation of the FCSM is that teaching is the central function and that all faculty members355strive to be outstanding teachers. Assessing teaching performance, however, is extremely difficult.356Generally, no single criterion can be used to adequately judge teaching performance.

357 Categories for Teaching

- The following are the required categories for teaching and all significant contributions should be organized accordingly.
- Tab B.1. Courses Taught During the Evaluation Period: The candidate must provide a list of courses taught using the following format:

362	SUMMARY OF COU	IRSES TAUGHT, 20XX to 20XX

- 365The candidate must provide a copy of the most recent syllabus used for each course taught at Towson366University during the evaluation period. Only one syllabus for each different course is required. Additionally367quantitative student evaluation scores as designated by the department as well as complete student368evaluation qualitative responses for each class should be included.
- Tab B.2. Peer Reports of Class Visits: Include a minimum of two peer observations per year (two different class meetings) for tenure-track or clinical assistant faculty and two for promotion to Full Professor or Clinical Professor with at least one within the last two years for candidates for promotion to Professor. All teaching evaluations that were conducted during the review period should be included in the evaluation portfolio. Approved departmental peer observation forms can be found in Appendix C.
- The following are additional potential categories for teaching and all significant contributions should be organized accordingly.

   the candidate's instruction. A copy of each article must be provided. For books, provide photocopies of the cover, title page, and table of contents.
- Tab B.7. Other Materials: The candidate should include other documents that he or she considers to be relevant for teaching that do not appear in the categories above (e.g., new courses developed, international teaching exchange, sabbatical activities related to teaching, etc.).

391 Section C: Scholarship

- 392 The FCSM recognizes that faculty members may undertake four types of scholarship as defined by the well-393 known Boyer Model: the scholarship of discovery, of integration, of application, and of teaching. The general 394 expectation of the FCSM is that all faculty members should be able to demonstrate the presence of an 395 active and ongoing program of scholarship in one or more of these forms. Faculty members need to demonstrate the ability to initiate and carry to completion scholarly work at Towson University in their 396 397 specialties. Scholarly work is considered validated when it is submitted for peer review and deemed worthy of publication or other form of dissemination. Submission for peer review of competitive proposals for 398 399 extramural funding is also a valid form of scholarship.
- 400 This section should begin with a table of contents listing all documents that support the areas of scholarship 401 listed below.

402 Categories for Scholarship

- 403 The following are the potential categories for scholarship and all significant contributions should be 404 organized accordingly.
- 405 Scholarly Writings in Journals, Books, Monographs, and Reviews:
- Tab C.1.a. Books and Monographs. For published works, give the title, publisher, and date of publication.
   For works accepted for publication, indicate whether an item is a book manuscript in press and scheduled

900 Appendix A. The Boyer Model of Scholarship

In "Enlarging the Perspective," the second chapter of Boyer's 1990 report Scholarship Reconsidered: Priorities of the Professoriate, the author outlines four "separate but overlapping functions" of scholarship which constitute the primary work of the professoriate: discovery, integration, application and teaching. These constitute "the Boyer Model" of scholarship....

Boyer takes issue with the assumptions we make about what constitutes scholarship. People assume a linear cause-and-effect relationship between scholarship that moves from research, to publication, to application to teaching. It's as though the latter are not considered part of scholarship at all, but "grow out of it" (15). Boyer contests: "The arrow of causality can, and frequently does, point in both directions. Theory surely leads to practice. But practice also leads to theory. Teaching, at its best, shapes both research and practice". Thus begins Boyer's mission to parse out the four levels of scholarship into the following model. All four elements "dynamically interact, forming an interdependent whole."

914 DISCOVERY: This element of scholarship is purely investigative, in search of new information. At the core of 915 scholarship, it is "what contributes not only to the stock of human knowledge but also to the intellectual climate of 916 a college or university" and Boyer considers investigation and research "at the very heart of academic life". These 917 scholars ask, "What is to be known? What is yet to be found?" 918

919 INTEGRATION: This element of scholarship is what happens when scholars put isolated facts into perspective, 920 "making connections across the disciplines, placing the specialties in larger context, illuminating data in a 921 revealing way" -- work that "seeks to interpret, draw together, and bring new insight to bear on original research". 922 Closely related to discovery, integration draws connections and examines contexts often in an interdisciplinary 923 and interpretive way. Boyer sees integration as a growing trend in universities, where disciplines are converging 924 and the boundaries between fields is becoming blurry. These scholars ask "What do the findings mean? Is it 925 possible to interpret what's been discovered in ways that provide a larger, more comprehensive understanding?" 926

927 APPLICATION: This element of scholarship is the most practical in that it seeks out ways in which knowledge can solve problems and serve both the community and the campus. As opposed to merely "citizenship," Boyer 928 929 argues that "to be considered scholarship, service activities must be tied directly to one's special field of 930 knowledge and relate to, and flow directly out of, this professional activity". He importantly notes that knowledge is not necessarily first "discovered" and then later "applied" - "new intellectual understandings," Boyer writes, "can 931 arise out of the very act of application ... theory and practice vitally interact and one renews the other." These 932 933 scholars ask "How can knowledge be responsibly applied to problems? How can it be helpful to people and 934 institutions?" 935

TEACHING: This element of scholarship recognizes the work that goes into mastery of knowledge as well as the presentation of information so that others might understand it. "Teaching, at its best, means not only transmitting knowledge, but transforming and extending it as well" – and by interacting with students, professors themselves are pushed in creative new directions. These scholars ask "How can knowledge best be transmitted to others and best learned?"

969	III.	THE FCSM ELECTION COMMITTEE (FCSMEC)
970		A. The FCSM Election Committee will consist of three members. All committee members must be tenured or on

990
991		The following must be followed for each valid regular and run-off election as well as for nominations. If creditable
992		evidence is presented that the procedures were not followed, the College Council will investigate. The normal election
993		process shall consist of two phases:
994		• the nomination phase;
995		• the election phase.
996		A. NOMINATION PHASE
997		1. A nomination "packet" (usually distributed electronically) shall include:

1002 1003 1004 1005 1006	<ul> <li>e. the requirements for eligibility for each open position (If there is an election for any member(s) of the FCSM P&amp;T Committee, a statement should be included that anyone expecting to be recommended for a promotion during the three-year term of office should not allow him/herself to be nominated for FCSM P&amp;T); and</li> <li>f. the current roster of those in various departments from which any candidate is sought.</li> </ul>
1007	2. Nomination ballots usually will be submitted electronically.
1008	3. The ballots shall allow a member of the electorate to nominate up to two people for each open position.
1009 1010 1011 1012 1013	4. For each open position, all receiving the two highest number of nominations will stand for election. Thus, after nomination ballots have been counted, the FCSMEC must contact each nominee to verify any nominee's willingness to serve. Should some nominee(s) be unable to stand for election, the committee will proceed through the list of nominees in (descending) order until those willing and having the two highest number of nominations are determined.
1014	B. ELECTION PHASE
1015	1. Election ballots usually will be submitted electronically.
1016	2. The ballots shall allow a member of the electorate to cast only one vote for each open position.
1017	3. The entire FCSM Elections Committee will review the results of the election.

D. EXTERNAL EVALUATION GUIDELINES FOR PROMOTION TO PROFESSOR

1147 The FCSM PTRM Committee guidelines for letters of evaluation from external reviewers for candidates for promotion 1148 to Professor will follow the guidelines established by the Provost and approved by the University Senate. The external 1149 evaluation will address the candidate's scholarship as it relates to the candidate's promotion to Professor.

1150 I. CONFIDENTIALITY

1151 The letters will remain confidential and will not be made available to the faculty member. These letters will not be 1152 included in the faculty evaluation portfolio, but will be forwarded under separate cover to each subsequent level of 1153 review.

1154 II. IDENTIFYING EXTERNAL EVALUATORS

Evaluators will be independent and impartial, cannot be members of the Towson University faculty, and should not be current or former advisors or mentors to the candidate or otherwise have (or have had) a personal or significant professional relationship with the candidate within the past five years, nor should they pose other significant potential conflicts of interest. Evaluators must be established scholars or practitioners with demonstrated expertise in the area of the candidate's specialization, and preferably be from or have experience at peer-type institutions.

1160 III. SELECTION OF EVALUATORS

1161 The candidate will recommend 5 evaluators who meet the criteria described above to the department chair. The 1162 candidate may also provide names of potential evaluators that they do not want to be used for their evaluation. The 1163 department chair will recommend 5 additional evaluators. The Dean will contact the potential evaluators to identify 3 1164 who agree to provide evaluations (see Query letter below). The Dean will request evaluation letters using the letter 1165 template below.

1166 IV. SUBJECT MATTER OF EXTERNAL REVIEW

1167 External evaluators are not to evaluate the candidate's teaching, advising or service to the University. The external 1168 evaluation will address the candidate's scholarly work as it relates to the candidate's promotion. The candidate shall 1169 provide an electronic file (PDF or similar) of the following material to the Dean to be forwarded to the external evaluators 1170 electronically:

- - Candidate's Curriculum Vitae,
- Candidate's supporting statement focusing on the area of scholarship and reflecting on accomplishments during the evaluation period,
- A maximum of three publications or other scholarly products, either as readable files or internet links thereto.
   The external evaluators will be able to request additional items on the candidate's curriculum vitae by contacting the Department Chairperson.
