

Journalism/New Media approved internship list

- Only full-time faculty can supervise interns. Faculty who can supervise students in the Journalism/New Media track are: Jenny Atwater, Sean Baker, Charles Flippen, Beth Haller, Kim Lauffer, Thom Lieb, Sandy Nichols and Stacy Spaulding.
- Internships in each track must be approved by the unit coordinator if they are not on the pre-approved list.
- All journalism & new media track students must pass either MCOM 255, Newswriting, or MCOM 258, Journalism/New Media II, (with a C or better) before doing an internship.
- To qualify as a journalism/new media internship, the student should work in an area of news, features, photography, editing, broadcast or online content creation, i.e. not in the promotions or marketing department.

The following list is of local and national sites in which Towson students have successfully participated in internships. Students wishing to do internships nationally or in their home state must have their internship site approved by the Journalism/New Media unit coordinator.

Magazines

Agora Publishing
American Style
Baltimore's Child
Baltimore Magazine
Chesapeake Life
Girls Life
Heart & Soul
Inside Lacrosse
Script
Sister 2 Sister
Style
Urbanite

Radio

National Public Radio
WYPR-FM
WBAL-AM

Television

Baltimore County Schools Education Channel
BET
Comcast SportsNet
ESPN
Fox 45
Maryland Public Television (MPT)
WBAL-TV
WJZ-TV
WMAR-TV

Newspapers

The Aegis
The Annapolis Capital
Baltimore Afro American
Baltimore Business Journal
The Baltimore Examiner
Baltimore Independent Media Center
Baltimore Jewish Times
The Baltimore Sun
Carroll County Times
The Catholic Review
The City Paper
The Daily Record
Frederick News-Post
Gazette newspapers
Hagerstown Herald-Mail
Ocean City Today
Patuxent newspapers
PressBox
The Washington Post
The New York Times

Web sites

www.baltimoresun.com
<http://baltimore.metromix.com/>
<http://www.bmorelive.com/>
University of Maryland Medical Center Web site, www.umm.edu