

Hey everyone,

Welcome back! I hope all of you had an awesome and relaxing break. That being said, there will still be a QSU meeting on Tuesday at 6pm in the Susquehanna Terrrace, as usual. However, we'll just be holding safe space that night for anyone who needs it. Our first "official" meeting will be on February 8th.

We'll also be starting the committees again this semester. You can join a committee, which includes the following categories and who is in charge of it: advertising (Shawn), which does flyering for events, fundraising (Lilia), which is self-explanatory, the drag show (Sarah), which involves setting up and cleaning up before/during/after the drag show, the coffeehouse (Joseph), which involves setting up and cleaning up before and after the show, and lastly social action (Adrienne) which does politically based events. We'll talk about this later on, but if you want to join one, start thinking now.

Queer After Hours is coming up! It's on February 8th at 7pm in the Center for Student Diversity. It's totally free, so come out for food, chill time, and general good times. I've attached the flyer as well.

Also coming up is Bmore Proud. Bmore Proud is an annual leadership summit which involves the Baltimore-Metro LGBTQIA community. This year Johns Hopkins University is hosting this event. It's completely free to register, which you can do here: <http://www.bmoreproud.org/>. This event is on February 12th. If you live on campus or don't have a ride, there are several Towson students going, and carpooling is definitely an option. If you can't find a ride, the Collegetown shuttle drops off at Johns Hopkins as well. Go register, right now!

I'll see all of you either this week for safe space, or next week for our meeting. Enjoy your new classes!
