Because day care and private school expenses (Kindergarten through 12th grade) may reduce a family’s ability to pay for college expenses, we can reevaluate your financial need based on these expenses. If these adjustments increase your financial need enough, we may be able to offer you additional grants or loans, but we cannot guarantee that these adjustments will lead to any additional aid funds.

The following factors will limit our ability to offer additional aid:

- Many aid programs have limited funding
- Many aid programs have federal annual limits per student

Dependent Towson University Students (Students who were required to list parent data on the FAFSA)

- We can usually make adjustments for expenses that your parents incurred for your younger brothers or sisters.
- You must report the expenses that were incurred during 2019, and those expenses must be recurring for 2020.
- The children who incurred the expenses must be listed as dependents on your parent’s tax returns.
- The parent(s) who paid and will pay the expenses must be the same parent(s) who are listed on your FAFSA.

Independent Towson University Students (Students who were NOT required to list parent data on the FAFSA)

- We can usually make adjustments for expenses incurred for your dependent children
- Adjustments for these expenses will definitely not allow us to offer you any additional grant funds. The best possible outcome is that the adjustments may allow us to increase your loan funds.
- You must report the expenses that were incurred during 2019, and those expenses must be recurring for 2020.
- The children who incurred the expenses must be listed as dependents on your tax returns.
- The expenses must be paid by yourself or your current spouse.
  (If you are married, but separated, we cannot count expenses paid by your spouse.)
