Registration Restrictions

If you have a university account balance in excess of $250, you will not be allowed to register.

eBill Notification and Payment

Payment of the electronic tuition bill (eBill) is the responsibility of the student and is due to the university each term. Notification that an eBill has been issued is communicated to each student via their TU campus email. Failure to pay or provide financial aid or third party documentation to cover the eBill statement balance does not discharge the financial obligation, including any late payment assessments, and may result in the cancellation of your class schedule.

Avoid Class Cancellation

Contact the Bursar’s Office if you do not receive an eBill notification at least one week prior to your payment due date.

Securing or Canceling Your Schedule

If your account balance reflects a credit or zero balance, your class schedule will be secured for the term. If your account reflects a credit or zero balance and you choose NOT to attend the upcoming term, you MUST drop all of your classes by the end of the change of schedule period in order to receive a 100 percent refund of tuition and fees. You must withdraw online through Self Service.

To withdraw online:

- Login to Towson Online Services
- Click Self Service
- Click Student Centre
- Click Enroll/Deenroll

Notification to the instructor does not constitute a proper withdrawal. If you fail to withdraw in the proper manner and timeframe, you will be financially responsible for all term charges. A $150 late fee is assessed to any student who does not pay in full or establish a payment plan with the university by their bill payment deadline.

For more information, contact the Office of the Registrar.
