

Hi Everyone,

I hope that you are all doing well! What a crazy time we've all found ourselves experiencing! I'm in touch with our instructors about how we might be able to schedule/reschedule classes but of course, we really don't know the timing just yet. Stay tuned for that information as soon as I'm able to pass it along.

It was just a couple of weeks ago that we started our spring semester. Many of you have reached out to let me know how much you've been enjoying your classes so I know it's hard to press pause. We went from trying to be well-rounded to trying to flatten the curve in a blink of the eye!

I hope that this list of online resources will be useful to you while we are all social distancing. Click on each title below to be taken to the related website.

- ▶ Virtual museum tours
- ▶ Ivy League MOOCs \(Massive Open Online Courses\)
- ▶ JFK Library Forums
- ▶ MIT Open Courses
- ▶ Online lectures on different topics
- ▶ The Paley Center for Media television star panel discussions
- ▶ The Actor's Studio episodes
- ▶ Lectures on various topics \(10-20 minutes each\)
- ▶ Great Courses one-month free trial offer
- ▶ Theatrical productions for streaming online
- ▶ Borrow digital movies, music, eBooks, and more with Enoch Pratt public library card
- ▶ Stream movies, documentaries, indie and foreign films with Pratt or Baltimore County Public Library card

I want to thank Joyce Garcynski, Assistant University Librarian for Development & Communications at TU's Cook Library for contributing entries to the above list. As they say, "it takes a village" even when the villagers all must keep a safe distance apart.

Everyone take good care!

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Tracy Jacobs'.

Tracy Jacobs
Director, Osher Lifelong Learning Institute