History Department Prize Application

Douglas D. Martin, Sr. History Award

About this award:
Douglas D. Martin (1943-2000) was a specialist in Native American history and the history of the American West. He was a professor of history at Towson University from 1970 to 2000, and served as the Chair of the Department from 1989 to 1995. The Douglas D. Martin, Sr. History Award was established in 2006 through a gift by his wife, Jane M. Martin. The award is given to undergraduate history majors who demonstrate an interest in the study of Western American History or the history of native peoples and who have a history GPA of at least 3.5. It is to be used to defray educational expenses such as tuition and fees, a summer abroad, a semester of research, or graduate study.

- “Cumulative GPA” can be found on your unofficial transcript, available through PeopleSoft. GPA can also be calculated using the GPA Calculator provided by Towson’s Office of the Registrar: https://www.towson.edu/registrar/grades/calculator.html
- “GPA in History” can be found on a History major’s “Academic Requirements” page, in the section about major requirements GPA in the major is the first thing listed. It looks like this: “Not Satisfied: Course requirements for the HIST-BS major. GPA calculations only reflect work taken at Towson. GPA: 2.000 required, 3.472 actual.”
