TOWSON UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY & RELIGIOUS STUDIES

22nd Annual Ian Moore Memorial Lecture

JUSTICE IN POST-PANDEMIC AMERICA

with

DR. DERRICK DARBY
Henry Rutgers Professor of Philosophy, Rutgers University

THURSDAY, APRIL 8, 2021
VIA ZOOM
06:30 PM EASTERN TIME
(US AND CANADA)

Dr. Derrick Darby is Henry Rutgers Professor of Philosophy at Rutgers University. He holds a BA from Colgate University and a PhD from the University of Pittsburgh. He discovered his passion for philosophy growing up in the Queensbridge public housing projects in New York City. For the backstory see his TEDx talk, “Doing the Knowledge.” He writes about rights, inequality, education, and democracy. His books include: Hip Hop and Philosophy: Rhyme to Reason (Open Court, 2005) coedited with Tommie Shelby; Rights, Race, and Recognition (Cambridge, 2009); and The Color of Mind: Why the Origins of the Achievement Gap Matter for Justice coauthored with John L. Rury (Chicago, 2018). His scholarship has been funded by the Spencer Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities, and the American Council of Learned Societies. His current projects include a coauthored book on democracy and identity politics. He is a cohost of A Pod Called Quest. Dr. Darby will offer a vision for how to combat institutional racism in post-pandemic America.

REGISTER IN ADVANCE FOR THIS MEETING:
https://towson-edu.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJlpc-6ppjMoHtQ004kjjyStgOFGhoagxUP

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

This event is free and open to the public. The Ian Moore Memorial Lecture is made possible by the Ian Moore Philosophy Fund and is sponsored by the Department of Philosophy and Religious Studies.

For further information please contact: Dr. Kristen Hine at 410-704-7110 or khine@towson.edu

TU
PHILOSOPHY AND RECOMMEND STUDIES