In partnership with the Embassy of Paraguay

The Anga Rory International Troupe is composed of musicians and dancers who have become famous for their folkloric music of Paraguay.

Established in 2002 by Professor Lilia Doldan, the group’s name, Anga Rory, means, “Joy of the Soul” in the Guarani language of Paraguay.

Members of the troupe wear authentic costumes representing the various peoples of Paraguay while presenting the many varieties of music and dance routines from their country.
