

Elementary/Special Education (EESE) Bachelor of Science Towson University in Northeastern Maryland

Do you live in Harford or Cecil County and want to earn a B.S. in Elementary/Special Education close to home?

Towson University is offering students in northeastern Maryland the opportunity to obtain a bachelor's degree (B.S.) in Elementary Education/Special Education (EESE) at the Towson University in Northeastern Maryland facility on the Harford Community College campus. The program, which admitted its first cohort in the Fall of 2008, allows students to earn a bachelor's degree without leaving Harford County. Students who complete an Associate of Arts in Teaching (AAT) degree in Elementary Education at Harford Community or Cecil College will be able to transfer to the Towson University program at the TU in Northeastern Maryland facility.

Recognized as Maryland's preeminent teacher education institution as well as a national model for professional preparation, the College of Education at Towson University has a distinguished history in the preparation of classroom teachers and education specialists. Towson faculty, a diverse community of learners/teachers/scholars with a wide range of strengths and specialties, model excellent teaching and learning skills. Highly experienced faculty members are committed to a common goal: to prepare and support the continuing development of professional educators and to meet and respond creatively to the critical educational challenges of the twenty-first century.

Information meetings will be held throughout the fall and spring semesters in order to discuss the components of the undergraduate satellite program in northeastern Maryland. At the information meetings, students will be provided with details concerning the EESE program. Students will also be able to talk to Towson University admissions personnel to discuss their transcripts and other important enrollment information.

Please plan on attending one of these information meetings to have your questions answered and be prepared to demonstrate your intent to enroll and earn a bachelor's degree in the Towson University in Northeastern Maryland EESE program.

Program Information

- The Towson University undergraduate program in Elementary Education and Special Education is an integrated program that prepares students for dual certification in both elementary education (grades 1-6) and special education (grades 1-8).
- Students complete their junior and senior years at the Northeastern Maryland Higher Education Center and in the Harford County Public School System.
- Students are admitted to enter the program in the Fall Semester only.
- Towson University is accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education and approved by the Maryland State Department of Education.

Admission Requirements

- Students who hold the Associate of Arts in Teaching (AAT) from an approved program in a Maryland community college have first priority. Interested students must apply, submit a writing sample, submit official transcripts from all post-secondary institutions attended, hold a 2.75 GPA or higher, and provide copies of *qualifying Praxis CORE scores.
- Students who do not hold the Associate of Arts in Teaching (AAT) from an approved program in a Maryland community college must complete specific prerequisite courses and complete at least 60 credits. Open houses are held throughout the year to evaluate transcripts and advise students on prerequisite courses needed. Interested students must apply, submit a writing sample, submit official transcripts from all post-secondary institutions attended, hold a 2.75 GPA or higher, and provide copies of *qualifying Praxis CORE scores.
- The application deadline is April 1st. However, students should plan to apply in the Fall Semester for entrance into the program for the following Fall.

Tuition and Financial Aid

- Students should visit the Towson website at www.towson.edu for information regarding tuition and financial aid. Please note: You must be accepted before aid can be awarded. We recommend you apply for financial aid prior to March 1st. It is vital that students follow the deadlines for financial aid applications.

Special TUNE Grant Available

TU is offering a need-based grant to students enrolled in at least 12 units of classes at the TUNE location.

Selected recipients will receive a $2,000 grant ($1,000 per term) for Fall and Spring semesters.

To receive an application form, please email:

4. After finalizing the application, submit, via email, a one page, double spaced essay explaining your reasons for entering the Elementary Education/Special Education program. The writing sample must be submitted to Toni Guidi at tguidi@towson.edu.

Points to Consider

- Application Deadline is April 1st. It is never too early to apply to our program! However, taking and passing the Praxis CORE must be completed prior to being accepted if you do not have a qualifying score on the SAT, GRE or ACT.
- A copy of qualifying scores must be mailed or emailed to:

Toni Guidi or Toni Guidi @ tguidi@towson.edu
Towson University in Northeastern Maryland
8000 York Road
Towson, MD 21252-0001
- Please complete the entire application and make sure all transcripts sent to Towson University are OFFICIAL (no grade reports or print-outs).
- Continue to meet with your advisor and be sure you are on track to complete your AAT or AA Degree.
- Please call TU Transfer Evaluation Services at 410.704.2113 if you have any questions.

Admissions staff will be on-site in Harford County at regular times throughout the semester. Please call 410-704-TUNE (8863) to make an appointment to meet with an Admissions counselor if you have questions regarding transfer of credits or the application process.
