- 3) Ambassadors have been doing a great job with recruitment events
- 4) Digital accessibility – progress not perfection – faculty are encouraged to go a little at a time

4. Highlights from FCSM Departments & Constituencies

A. Biology

- 1) Mr. Jeremy Doggett has accepted the position of new Operations Manager for the Biology department and will be on January 7th.
- 2) The Biology Department is currently interviewing three finalist candidates for the Vertebrate Physiology Assistant Professor position. Two candidates visited the week of December 8th, and the final candidate will visit next week (week of December 15th).

B. Chemistry & Forensic Science

- 1) TU was represented well at the 2025 International Symposium on Human Identification in Palm Beach, FL. Congratulations to all our student and faculty presenters.
- 2) Lucas Hoffman (CHEM major) was selected as a TU nominee for a 2026 Goldwater Scholarship.
- 3) Chemistry and Forensic Science Organic Search is ongoing.

C. PAGS

- 1) The search for a new electronics shop manager (replacing Jeff Klupt after his retirement) is ongoing. Candidates have been identified for interviews with the hope of getting these done before Christmas.
- 2) We will have two new Teaching Assistant Professors in the Spring. Karen Cimino is shifting from staff to teaching faculty in science education, and Christy Metzger is joining the department in physics.
- 3) The annual Society for Physics Students “physics pumpkin drop” was held at the Science Complex Terrace on 31st October. Students were divided into six groups and had to use their estimation skills to predict the distance that the furthest seed would fly from a pumpkin dropped off the terrace onto the patio below. Six physics professors were dropped in effigy with their likenesses attached to the pumpkins. The winning group was “Pumpkin Kolagani” with a predicted distance of 1.7m and a measured distance of 2.5m.
- 4) On November 14th, a celebration of life was held in the Science Complex for Eddie Loh, a longtime PAGS chair and benefactor of many students through his generous scholarships.
- 5) A documentary on the interstellar object 1I/‘Oumuamua has just been broadcast on French television featuring contributions from PAGS faculty Alan Jackson and Chris Ready. This documentary was partly filmed in the TU planetarium.
