Towson University is a leader in cybersecurity education, as a Center of Academic Excellence in Cyber Defense Education since 2002 and one of only 16 Centers of Academic Excellence in Cyber Operations in the nation.*

B.S. in Computer Science with Security Track

The B.S. in Computer Science with the Security Track is our flagship program. Students will learn the latest security theory and applications preparing a pathway for high-demand jobs or graduate study. A total of 120 credits is required.

M.S. in Computer Science with Security Track

This degree is appropriate for students with B.S. degrees in Computer Science or related fields. The track provides advanced preparation in cybersecurity concepts. A total of 33 credits is required.

M.S. in Applied IT with Information Security and Assurance

The M.S. in AIT is meant for professionals with limited prior exposure to IT. The degree provides IT skills to individuals currently in decision making positions in IT and Cybersecurity. A total of 33 credits is required.

Graduate Certificate in Information Assurance and Security

This 1-year graduate certificate covers the study, design, development, implementation and support of information security measures for computer-based information systems. This is meant to supplement current credentials or work experience. A total of 15 credits is required.

*as of 2016

Find us on the web @ www.towson.edu/cyber