

Assistant Professor or Clinical Assistant Professor, Audiology
Department of Audiology, Speech-Language Pathology, and Deaf Studies
College of Health Professions
CHP-N-3132

Position:

The College of Health Professions invites applications for a tenure-track, 10-month Assistant Professor or non-tenure-track Clinical Assistant Professor position to teach audiology in the Clinical Doctoral degree and Bachelor's degree programs in the Department of Audiology, Speech-Language Pathology and Deaf Studies beginning August 2018.

Qualifications:

All candidates: Research, clinical, and/or teaching experience in one or more of the following areas: Advanced diagnostics, vestibular diagnosis, auditory processing disorders, hearing aids and electrophysiology.

Candidates for the tenure-track position: Research doctoral degree (PhD) degree in audiology or related area. ABD applications considered, but appointment will be at the Instructor rank and all degree requirements must be completed by February 1, 2019. Preference given to individuals with ASHA CCC-A certification and current (or eligible for) Maryland licensure.

Candidates for the non-tenure-track clinical position: Doctoral degree in audiology. ASHA CCC-A certification and current (or eligible for) Maryland licensure are required.

Responsibilities:

Undergraduate and graduate class instruction; academic advising, university, community and professional service; and interdisciplinary activities. Supervision of clinical services is required for clinical faculty and optional for tenure-track faculty. All faculty must be able to mentor professional writing for undergraduate and graduate students. Tenure-track faculty are assigned an instructional workload of six (6) course units per academic year for the first year. Beginning the second year the workload reverts to the standard instructional workload of six to eight (6-8) course units per academic year, depending on scholarly activity, advising, and clinical supervision responsibilities. All clinical faculty are assigned an instructional workload of eight (8) course units per academic year.
