Assistant Professor
Department of Educational Technology and Literacy
College of Education
COE-N-3211

Position:
The College of Education invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the Department of Educational Technology and Literacy.

Qualifications Required:
An earned doctorate (degree completed by December 2018) from an accredited university in Instructional Technology or related field. Present a commitment to higher education via evidence of successful university and K-12 public school teaching experience. A strong research background related to the field of Instructional Technology and potential for external funding are preferred. An ideal candidate should present active scholarly productivity and a commitment to professional development.

Qualification Preferred:
Demonstrate a strong commitment and potential to research and teaching in the area of instructional technology. Preferred qualifications include experiences in:

- Teaching undergraduate and/or graduate courses in Instructional Technology field
- Teaching in online or hybrid learning environments
- Advising masters and/or doctoral student research
- Conducting and publishing research related to Instructional Technology and related fields
- Seeking and obtaining external funded grants.

Responsibilities:
Teach six (6) course units for the first year, and then the years following would be eight (8) units per year (with one unit for research scholarship). Teach undergraduate and graduate courses in Instructional Design and Educational Technology, conduct research in the field of Instructional Technology, participate in program, department, college and university governance, and provide service to the field and profession at local, state and national levels.

Towson University:
Towson University (www.towson.edu) was founded in 1866, is recognized by U. S. News and World Reports as one of the top public universities in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions, is Baltimore’s largest university, and is the largest public, comprehensive institution in the University of Maryland System. TU enrolls over 19,000 undergraduates and more than 3,000 graduate students across six academic colleges (business, education, fine arts, health professions, liberal arts, science & mathematics), has over 900 full-time faculty, and offers 65 bachelor’s, 42 master’s, and 4 doctoral programs. Our centrally located campus sits on 330 rolling green acres and is 10 miles north of Baltimore, 45 miles north of Washington D.C., and 95 miles south of Philadelphia.

Application Process:
Review of applications begins 30 days after the ad is posted and continues until the position is filled. To apply, submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, and three reference letters to:

Dr Liyan Song
Instructional Technology Search Chair
Department of Educational Technology and Literacy
College of Education
Towson University
8000 York Road
Towson, MD 21252

A Criminal Background Investigation is required for the hired candidate and the results may impact employment.

Please be sure to visit http://www.towson.edu/inclusionequity/employment/data.html to complete a voluntary on-line applicant data form. The information you provide will inform the university’s affirmative action plan and is for statistical-related purposes only. The information will not be used for any other purpose. Please note that the search number for which you have applied is: COE-N-3211.

Towson University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.