

Electronic Resources & Discovery Librarian
Albert S. Cook Library
LIB-N-3220

Position:

Towson University's Albert S. Cook Library seeks a dynamic and innovative individual to serve as the Electronic Resources & Discovery Librarian. This position is a 12-month faculty status position beginning January 2019.

Qualifications:

MLS or equivalent from an ALA-accredited institution. Knowledge of the full e-resources life cycle and library and bibliographic standards pertaining to e-resources. Additional Master's degree in an academic discipline offered at Towson University desirable. For more information about the position: <http://libraries.towson.edu/employment>. Rank is determined by qualifications at time of appointment.

Responsibilities:

This position will provide leadership and expertise in integrating, organizing and managing the library's electronic resources and assist the Assistant University Librarian (AUL) for Content Management with all aspects of the life cycle and e-resources, including purchasing, licensing, access, and maintenance of all electronic materials. The Electronic Resources & Discovery Librarian will work cooperatively with units across the library to ensure that the library's subscription databases, e-journals and e-books are discoverable and accessible by patrons. The successful candidate would serve as a liaison and subject specialist to department(s) and related disciplines as assigned; plan and teach information literacy in liaison area and other disciplines; design and implement library initiatives to support student success and retention; and participate in library assessment initiatives. This faculty librarian will maintain an active research program focused on the role, impact, dynamics and trends of electronic and digital resources in higher education and academic libraries. Librarians are expected to progress successfully along the promotion and permanent status track and participate fully as members of the library faculty.
