Clinical Assistant Professor or Clinical Associate Professor
Department of Audiology, Speech Language Pathology & Deaf Studies
College of Health Professions
CHP-N-3236

Position:
The College of Health Professions invites applications for a full-time, 10-month faculty position at the Clinical Assistant or Clinical Associate Professor rank beginning August 2019.

Qualifications:
Degree and credentials: (1) Master’s degree or doctorate in Speech-Language Pathology, (2) ASHA CCC-SLP certification, and (3) current (or eligible for) unencumbered Maryland license as a speech-language pathologist.

Experience: Clinical experience in one or more of the following areas: Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC), child language development and disorders, speech sound development and disorders, and/or phonetics. Clinical supervision, didactic teaching and/or research experience in these areas is preferred (especially AAC).

Responsibilities:
Primary responsibilities include supervision of students providing clinical services on campus; undergraduate and graduate class instruction; academic advising; university, community, and professional service; and scholarship expectations including on-going professional education and maintenance of clinical excellence. In addition, responsibilities may include mentoring writing abilities in undergraduate and graduate students, collaborative research, and interprofessional education (IPE).

Department of Health Science:
The Department of Audiology, Speech-Language Pathology and Deaf Studies currently has 23 full-time faculty who teach over 500 undergraduate majors across two baccalaureate degree programs: Speech Language Pathology and Audiology, and Deaf Studies. The department’s graduate programs enroll over 80 students in the Master’s degree program in Speech Language Pathology, and over 40 students in an Audiology clinical doctorate program. In addition, the department is responsible for administering the Towson University Speech, Language and Hearing Center that serves over 1,000 clients each year in the greater metropolitan Baltimore community. Towson University offers excellent fringe benefits including leave, health and life insurance options, pension plan, and tuition waived education for employees and immediate family.
